WELFARE ASSOCIATION

FIVE CENT COFFEE

The price of coffee which last February was increased from 5 to 6 cents in order to bring the price in line with the cost of ingredients and to help meet the rising cost of labor has been reduced by the Cafeteria Committee to 5 cents again by popular demand. Labor costs remain the same, of course, but the wholesale price of coffee, perversely enough, advanced 2 cents a pound right after the Committee reduced the price per cup.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA NEWS-

Approximately 300 music lovers in the Agriculture Department responded to an interest-finding survey about the USDA Symphony Orchestra.

A great number of these said that they not only would support the Orchestra by joining a Symphony Association for the purpose but would also help in securing new members for such a group.

A meeting held on Sept 8 of these supporters and music fans chose the name "AGRICULTURE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA ASSOCIATION" for the new organization.

Since the fall concert will be given near the end of October a membership drive is essential NOW.

A luncheon meeting of the MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE has been called for Wednesday, September 14 in Room 6970.

Individual membership in the AGRICULTURE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA ASSN for the coming season which will include at least 3 concerts has been set at the nominal price of $1.

In addition to being assured of seats at the concerts the card will entitle its holder to attend the Friday evening rehearsals which are very interesting.

BE PROUD of YOUR orchestra.

WANT ADS ACCEPTED- Classified advertising can be placed now for the first issue of the Employees' Newspaper to be out soon. Submit ads in writing to the Employee Activities Office, Room 1073-S.

AERA COUNCIL APPROVES NEWSPAPER TEST RUN

A movement to establish a newspaper of, by and for Agriculture employees which was proposed by Carl Bark of FCA at the July meeting of the AERA Council is about to be realized.

The September meeting of the Council authorized the Newspaper Committee to spend up to $200 in getting out a trial issue.

The possibility of publishing a 4-page tabloid size paper with photographs, want ads; sections devoted to sports, employee activities; a woman's page; feature stories, bowling league news; letters to the editor; news stories; cartoons, a swap column, editorials; even poetry (perhaps); all this and more will be the fare offered by the newspaper.

It is expected that the trial issue will be distributed in the cafeterias, snack bars and other points throughout the Department easily reached by everyone.

An employee newspaper offers an excellent avenue for all of us to get our ideas across.

At a newspaper Committee meeting on September 12 it was decided to accept Ike Arneson's suggestion that the new paper's name should be "THE AERA REPORTER" with the sub-head: "Of, By and For Agriculture Department Employees"; at least for the trial issue.

The possibility of a contest to choose a permanent name for the paper was also discussed.

The following officers to get out the trial issue were chosen:

Editor-in-Chief: T. Swann Harding;
Advertising Mgr: Ed Seidel; News Editor: Ike Arneson; Circulation Mgr: George Hanna; Feature Stories: Hilja Ketola; Art Editor: Lance Hooks.

It was agreed that the Employee Activities Office would serve temporarily as the Editorial Offices for the new paper with Charles H. Cunningham and staff acting in an Ex Officio capacity on planning and production problems.

NOTE TO ALL ORGANIZATION PRESIDENTS

Please appoint a reporter at once to get your news in the first issue which goes to press about October 1st.

The paper will be sold in the cafeterias and snack bars for 1¢ - honor system.

USDA WOMAN'S CLUB--

Plans for the first meeting of a Department-wide WOMAN'S CLUB are going forward. It is hoped that a meeting can be held by the end of September.

A WOMAN'S CLUB open to wives of employees as well as to women employees of the Department has long been needed in the opinion of the backers of this new project.

"After all", a recent visitor to the EMPLOYEE ACTIVITIES OFFICE commented, "a Department with as many employees as Agriculture has would make a good sized city and who ever heard of a city without a WOMAN'S CLUB-- dozens of them in fact?"

What would a WOMAN'S CLUB do? Here are some of the things our fair visitor listed:

1) organize children's activities in the auditorium such as good movies, a children's orchestra and concerts by the Department's Symphony Orchestra featuring music written especially for children;

2) plays with children as actors and audience as well as plays with adult actors in plays appealing to children

3) a flower show and a fair in one of the courts

4) sponsor and support employee activities such as the Symphony Orchestra Agriculture Choristers, Agriculture Players; the Employee Newspaper.

5) it could mean the difference between success and failure of a boat-ride or any other activity

6) encourage good fellowship

7) information about the Department and its great role would be extended among its members and their knowledge and satisfaction increased thereby.

We thought we'd just take the opportunity afforded by this bulletin to pass the idea along to you.

If you are interested in the idea as a woman employee; or if your wife is interested; drop us a card in care of the EMPLOYEE ACTIVITIES OFFICE, Room 1073-S.

We hope to begin by having monthly meetings on an informal basis. The first meeting will probably be held in the auditorium at 12 o'clock some day soon with a music selection and an outstanding woman speaker and end with a luncheon in the Cafeteria. WRITE NOW

MODERN HOMEMAKING, a new course offered by the Graduate School will answer some of the questions raised by employed women (and husbands and fathers) who work at "keeping house". Modern Homemaking teaches the applications of research to many phases of the problem.

Specialists from USDA and elsewhere will give practical information on such topics as budgets; menu planning; buying a house, etc.

Miss Sadye Adelson, Technical Assistant to the Chief, HNHE, heads this.

Graduate School registration begins Sept. 10. Classes begin Week of Sept. 19.

OFAR's Employees Club held the first of a projected series of monthly luncheons on August 29 with Mr. Stanley Andrews, OFAR's Director, as guest speaker. An outstanding speaker in the field of foreign agriculture is scheduled for each luncheon meeting. Mr. J. Forrest Crawford Agriculture Attache to Iraq, will discuss modern agriculture and irrigation prospects in that country at the forthcoming luncheon.

Besides ministering to good fellowship OFAR's Employees Club is affording its members a unique opportunity to come to grips with the singular problems with which OFAR deals.

This plan has much to commend it.

CLIPPINGS

From THE PERSONNEL LOG:

"Barney Draheim has been under the flood-lights this past week being filmed by "March of Time" on his many civic and educational activities in Arlington County. This "March of Time" film will be released to some 7,000 theatres in the U.S. to an anticipated audience of over 85 million people. Release date will be latter part of Sept."

Ed. Note: Also you may have noticed that Barney has been elected a member of the Arlington County School Board.

From REA'S SPAN:

"Administrator WICKARD'S PISCATORIAL PROWESS PRAISED BY PRESS

A column by George Nixon in the Aug. 23d issue of a Washington newspaper tells of a recent fishing trip indulged in by Administrator Wickard, George VLK, and the columnist. According to the story, Mr. Wickard stated that it was lunch-time just as the party encountered a "fantastic convention of bluefish." As he prepared to eat his sandwich, the Skipper of the boat, one Capt. Irish, ordered him to "get back there with that rod and keep fishing. You can eat on the way home".

The columnist neglected to state what happened next; an authoritative source, however, states that Mr. Wickard brought home a big batch of bluefish.

And one sandwich."

From USDA:

"CAN WE LIVE TOGETHER?

On June 23 Charles T. Estes, special assistant to the Director of Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, gave a very interesting and informative talk before the USDA Training Council. It was entitled: "Can We Learn to Live Together" It might have been titled: "How To Get Along With Your Fellow Workers." It is good tonic both for supervisors and those supervised. If you want copies we have some; write the Editor of USDA or phone Miss Arden, Ext. 4649, and ask for Can We Learn to Live Together?"

The USDA Editor offers copies of "The King's English", by a former employee of the Department to anyone interested. Write the Editor of USDA, or phone Miss Arden, Ext. 4649. It is recommended to those who want to write better letters and be a better "boss".

CAFETERIA GETS BIG HAND-

Geraldine G. Fenn, Ass't State Club Leader of Montana's Agriculture and Home Economics Extension Service, writes to our Cafeteria Manager as follows:

Dear Mr. Lommasson:

During the past year I spent nine months in Washington studying in the Department of Agriculture and at The George Washington University. Under this arrangement I had many of my meals in the Department of Agriculture Cafeteria, as did two of my fellow students. All three of us felt that the cafeterias in the Department of Agriculture were doing an excellent job of serving huge numbers of people with food which was tasty, in season, and inexpensive.

In my work it is necessary for me to eat out a great deal and I get very tired of the usual run of food which is served in public eating places. However, I can truthfully say that I did not ever tire of the food served in your cafeterias during the entire year. We thought it was tastily prepared, very attractive, and that there was considerable variety.

One morning I happened to get in the wrong elevator and suddenly found myself in the middle of the kitchen. The lady in charge was very pleasant and invited me to inspect the kitchen. This was a very enjoyable experience and I learned a great deal. I vowed at that time that I would write you upon my return and let you know how we felt about your food services.

It is easy to complain but one does not always take the time to express appreciation for a job well done. We felt you people were doing a good job and so I wanted to be sure to tell you so. Signed: Geraldine G. Fenn, Assistant and State Club Leader.

GOLF LOVERS will note that a three day Annual Medal Play Tournament of the Federal Golf Association is now in progress (Sept 12,13,14) at the Argyle Country Club.

Darryl Johnson reports that several Agriculture employees placed their entries in the contest before the Sept. 1 deadline.

40 prizes are available to winners, both individuals and teams in Classes A, B and C.

The 15 low gross players will be eligible to play an additional 18 holes on September 16 to determine the winner of the J. Edgar Hoover Trophy emblematic of the Individual Championship of the Federal Golf Association.

Mr. Cooper, head of the Cafeteria's maintenance department is complimented by the EMPLOYEES NEWS BULLETIN for a renovation job on venetian blinds that saved $1200 for the Cafeteria over the $1500 bid of a downtown company.
